Conversation Sampler

I invite you to try this brief sample conversation with your fiancé. Here's how it works: 1. Each of you downloads your own copy and works separately, typing your responses honestly and thoughtfully into the text boxes of the PDF file. 2. When you are both finished, come together, hold hands, and take turns sharing your thoughts and responses. This simple two-step process of preparing first, then sharing, makes it easy for you to have meaningful and enjoyable conversations. Below is a sampler of the prompts from the first guided conversation…

1. When we first met, some of the things that impressed me about you were…

   And I remember thinking…

2. Some of the things I like most about you include…

3. To say that I appreciate you means that I value the way you…

4. When we are married, I'm especially looking forward to…

If you enjoyed this sample, imagine having ten guided conversations like this, each one carefully designed to strengthen your communication, deepen your faith, and prepare you for a faithful, lifelong marriage. -- Rev. Frank
